Name of applicant: _____

Street address: _____

City: _____ Zip: _____

Phone: _____ Height: _____ Date of birth: _____ Female Male

After introducing yourself to the teen, thank him/her for volunteering. Ask if the teen understands how the enforcement and evaluation program will be run and explain the part-time occasional nature of the work. Take this time to establish a friendly relationship and to answer questions. Then tell the interviewee:

"I want to take a few moments to ask you some questions required for applicants to the enforcement and evaluation program. We need to know when you will be available so we can schedule the buying operations. We also need to know a little bit more about your background for safety's sake and to plan how you could best work with us in the coming months. How you answer these questions will not necessarily disqualify you from the program. Our main criteria for hiring you are your honesty and reliability.

Your answers to these questions will be kept confidential by the staff of [Agency Name]."

Please print all responses.

20. I would now like to ask you a situational question. Suppose you were working with us on one of our tobacco purchasing operations. Suppose you had picked up a pack of cigarettes and were headed to the checkout counter to attempt to buy them. There are two persons ahead of you in line and they are arguing with each other. Suddenly they begin physically fighting with each other. What should you do?

Thank you very much for answering these questions, I hope that you do not feel that we have been too intrusive, but as I said before these questions are very necessary for us to ensure both smooth operations and your safety. Do you have any questions?

Remind the teen that he/she will still need some training before they are able to participate. Give information about training, if available, and remind him/her about obtaining ID cards, if applicable.

Good luck in the program and I hope we get a chance to meet soon. Good-bye.
